Dear Actos Patients:

In April of 2015, Takeda Pharmaceuticals agreed to a historical $2.7 billion dollar settlement to resolve the claims of the users of the diabetic drug, Actos, who were later diagnosed with bladder cancer.

The terms of the settlement resolution program is simple. You have to meet three criteria in order to qualify for participation and potential recovery:

- 1) You or your family member must have taken Actos prior to the year 2012 for controlling blood sugar.
- 2) You or your family member must have taken Actos for at least two years.
- 3) You or your family member were unfortunately diagnosed with bladder cancer, or have died from bladder cancer.

If you meet all three conditions, you may be eligible for up to $200,000 USD or more in recovery as an Actos bladder cancer victim.

The deadline to participate is September 11, 2015, and we have to prepare documents for you in order to enroll into the program, so please act as soon as possible.

If you are a bladder cancer victim of the diabetic medication, Actos, please contact Oliver-Zhang Law. Oliver-Zhang Law is located in the Nation's Capital, and Attorney Julie Oliver-Zhang is an award-winning, highest-rated, Top-Attorney in Washington, DC.
